SUBJECT: Disposal of Waste from Amphenol Products
Franklin, Indiana, at Adams Center
Hazardous Waste Landfill

This memo is in response to a conversation on May 24, 1985, between Mr. Roy Harbert and myself regarding the disposal of waste from Amphenol Products at the Adams Center Hazardous Waste Landfill. Mr. Harbert stated that Adams Center has accepted and disposed of numerous loads of soil debris from Amphenol Products. As of May 24, 1985, no approval had been sent for that particular waste. I currently have the disposal request and have been reviewing it for approval.

After I was told that the waste had already been accepted, I called Ms. Susan Griggs, Customer Service Manager at Adams Center. She stated that there had been a time constraint to dispose that particular waste. Thus, Adams Center spoke with the generator and decided to give the waste a hazardous waste code of F008. After changing the classification to F008, Adams Center accepted the material under their new generic approval. At the conclusion of our conversation, Ms. Griggs told me to disregard the request for disposal.

At the present time, I am unsure as to what should be done next. Should the request be ignored, or should I follow through with normal approval procedures? Please let me know if I can be of any further assistance in this matter.

SUBJECT Disposal of Waste from Amphenol Products

MESSAGE

Since this material is contaminated soil from closure cleanup, I am assuming this means that any of their waste could be present. One waste they produce is F007, which is not in the generic approval. The disposal request states that contamination is from the plating operation.

REPLY

I have no info. as to why they should only choose F006 as the waste code. I would think they should include F007, F008 & F009 also.
